

Women Helping Others (WHO) of Sun City

WHO were special guests at the 50th Anniversary celebration for Opportunities for Williamson & Burnet Counties January 28 at the Baca Center in Round Rock. WHO members have been avid supporters of and volunteers for Opportunities' Meals on Wheels program and their table was provided compliments of one of the corporate sponsors to honor their hard work. WHO members not only help deliver meals around the Georgetown and Sun City area, they also donate money to support the program and recently toured the facility to get a sense of Opportunities' stewardship of their money. They were not disappointed.

Opportunities has been providing services and support to children, families and seniors in need since 1965. Their goal is to provide paths to independence and helping people transition out of poverty via Head Start, Meals on Wheels, Affordable Housing and Community Services (utility assistance). Executive Director Diana Phillips was thrilled to have the WHO ladies participate at the event. "We couldn't do it without them and all the wonderful volunteers like them. Our seniors are much better off with caring people like Nina, who feed and check on them every single day!"
